

Rupert's Tales: The Wheel of the Year Beltane, Litha, Lammas, and Mabon - Kyrja, Illustrated by Tonia Bennington Osborn

A groundbreaking story that collects, commemorates, and illuminates traditional, sacred Pagan practices and beliefs in a fresh, contemporary, and whimsical style.

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Salesprice with discount

Sales price $19.99

Sales price without tax $19.99

Tax amount

Ask a question about this product

Description

Join Rupert the rabbit on his adventures as he sets out to discover how and why people leave their homes to celebrate seasonal holidays in the forest where he lives. As Rupert's journey unfolds throughout the seasons, he meets owls, fairies, and old friends who teach him about the Wheel of the Year. Beautifully illustrated, this book is an excellent starting point for young children being raised within the loose structure of the various Pagan traditions. You don't have to be Pagan to be enchanted by Rupert and the magick found in his tales.

Reviews

There are yet no reviews for this product.